Free Screening: Living Soil: A Documentary

Join us, at White Horse Farm (Yamhill, OR) for a community screening of Living Soil: A Documentary. Our soils produce 95% of our food, filter our water, and store carbon; yet in the last 150 years, we've lost half of what makes them fertile. Living Soil shows innovative farmers and scientists tackling this crisis head-on. The film invites us to see soil not as dirt, but as a living system that could decide our future.
